MAASTRICHT

I spoke to the Prime Minister today about his broadcast on the 12th. I am concerned at the prospect of having to write this from cold on his return, particularly if the summit spills over on to the 11th. He agreed, saying that he ought to be working on it with me during the summit. I doubt if he personally will find the time, but it is true that I will make a better job of it if I am out there. So I must accept his invitation to join the party.

Anything I should do about arrangements?

must have been just Andrew

I'm sorry - my recollection is that you were present* at the week ahead discussion. He is doing a straight-to-camera party political on the 12th, in preference to a ministerial, to which Kinnoch would have right of reply. Sarah
